

UCLA CONNECTION LAB USERS AGREEMENT

2026-2027

This agreement establishes the expectations, responsibilities, and guidelines for all members of the Connection Lab at UCLA. By signing this agreement, you acknowledge your commitment to maintaining a collaborative, productive, and respectful research environment.

To promote a focused and productive research environment, the Connection Lab will have designated quiet hours from 9:00 AM to 6:00 PM on weekdays.

Quiet Hours Policy (9 AM - 5 PM):

- Maintain low conversation volumes to ensure minimal disruption and support concentration.
- Collaboration and productive discussions relevant to lab activities are encouraged. Feel free to utilize the whiteboard actively. General gossip and casual chatter should be avoided.
- Conduct phone calls and lengthy conversations in designated meeting areas outside the main lab.
- For interviews, meetings, or focused quiet tasks, the supply closet equipped with a desk and whiteboard is available. Please use this space responsibly and courteously.
- Refrain from disruptive activities, such as loud talking, shouting, or unnecessary noise that could distract fellow members.
- A strict policy of one guest per member applies. Lab members remain fully responsible for the actions and behavior of their guest at all times. They should be in the lab only as long as you plan to stay there.

Outside Quiet Hours:

Outside the designated quiet hours, the lab guidelines are relaxed to encourage collaboration and interaction. Members are urged to use the space respectfully and in alignment with the lab's mission.

Facility & Equipment Use Guidelines

- Please use lab equipment responsibly, exclusively for your own research or academic projects. Avoid careless handling or unauthorized group use.
- Printing services are designated primarily for lab-related academic or research materials. Limit personal printing to essential academic documents only.

- Maintain cleanliness by promptly disposing of food waste in the designated trash bin located directly outside the lab entrance. Avoid leaving food or food-related waste in lab bins.
- After meals or snacks, clean table surfaces thoroughly to maintain a tidy workspace for yourself and fellow members.
- If food waste disposal in the sink is necessary, ensure the sink is completely clean and free of residue afterward.

These guidelines aren't intended as rigid constraints, but rather as a framework to help create a comfortable, productive environment for all lab members. By adhering to these, we can collectively maintain structure and harmony, allowing everyone to fully benefit from and enjoy this unique and collaborative space.

Thank you for contributing to a respectful and productive lab environment.

Acknowledgment

By accessing the lab through my Bruin Card or keypad combination, I acknowledge that I've read and understood the code of conduct within the lab and will continue to stick to it during my time in the lab.
